VOCAL HESITATION PROBLEMS
TO BE DISCUSSED AT UM

MISSOULA--

Dr. J. Donald Ragsdale, an associate professor of speech communication at Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge, will discuss the "Personality Correlates of Vocal Hesitation Phenomena" on the University of Montana campus Wednesday (Aug. 18).

The free public lecture is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in room 360 F and G in the University Center.

Dr. Ragsdale will present a summary of his research concerning the personality make-up of individuals whose overt speech behavior inhibits communication because of hesitation in speech.

Dr. Ragsdale's lecture is sponsored by the UM Speech Communication Center for Communication Studies and Services.
